BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

"Life has a way of testing a person's will, either by having nothing happen at all or by having everything happen at once." - Paulo Coelho

"These are the secret Pentagon photos of the first prisoners at Guantánamo Bay." That was the headline on a social media site recently. It is not unusual to see the word "secret" in some attention-grabbing headline on social media but we can't help but think every time we see the word in a headline, 'How can it be secret when it is all over the internet?' That question will probably go unanswered in our lifetime, along with a number of other catch words that are overused in an effort to grab attention to a particular article.

The Libertarian Party last had statewide ballot access in Alabama in 2002. This year the party has certified 69 candidates for the November general election, including candidates for the U.S. Senate, governor, and seven other statewide races. Listening to quotes from their leaders, they apparently don't expect to win, with comments such as "getting 20% of the vote", etc. That doesn't mean their candidates are not qualified. It is an admission that American voters tend to vote for the person they think will win! We probably fall into that category as well but have been known to cast protest votes against the candidate from the two leading political parties! It doesn't help anything but our inner satisfaction.

Voters are reminded that Alabama has the runoff election next week (Tuesday). The two main races we see are the U. S. Senate race with Katie Boyd Britt and Mo Brooks. We predict Coffee County native Katie will win that one. She carried most of the counties, except for those around Brook's home in the Huntsville area. Pike County's former Probate Judge Wes Allen is facing off against State Auditor Jim Ziegler for the Secretary of State nomination. Republican voters will also have votes for State Auditor with Stan Cooke and Andrew Sorrell in the race. Public Service Commission has two slots in this run-off. Place #1 has Jeremy H. Oden facing Brent Woodall and Place Two has Chip Beeker facing Robert L. McCollum.

Democrats will only be voting in the Governor's race with Yolanda Rochelle Flowers facing Malika Sanders Fortier. We know absolutely nothing about either of these candidates, so will not venture forth with any suggestions, except urge those who do vote in this race to please learn about each candidate before casting your vote! We expect a very, very low turnout of Democrats this time around, so those who do vote will have a larger than average impact on the outcome.

Alabama law limits voters to voting in the run-offs only in the party they voted in the first primary. Come November we can cross vote for candidates in all parties on the ballot . . . plus write-ins votes for someone not on the ballot.

Be safe, wear your mask when appropriate, social distance, wash your hands AND get the shot(s) and/or boosters!

The Shock of Loss

This is a common conundrum: You wish to pay your respects to a deceased loved one or ancestor and you know which cemetery they are buried in. What you don't know is exactly where their gravesite is located - and in vast, sprawling cemeteries, this can pose a big logistical problem.

The question is, who can you ask to help you find the grave you are looking for? Is it proper etiquette to contact the cemetery owner or operator to provide you with some direction?

The short answer to this question is yes, though you may not need to speak with a cemetery owner directly. These days, a lot of cemeteries have websites where you can get the lay of the land and develop some sense of where your loved one is buried. Often, this is the quickest way to find the information you're looking for.

But if the cemetery doesn't have a website, or you still need assistance, it's perfectly fine to contact the cemetery's owner or operator. It's best to gather some key information before you do so, however - including the full name of the deceased and if possible, the year of their birth and the year of their death. This simply helps the cemetery owner to locate your loved one more quickly.

An alternative is to reach out to the local funeral home; even if it's not affiliated with the cemetery in question, it may have access to records that show where your loved one is buried.

In short, there's always a way to identify the final resting place of your loved one, so never hesitate to ask!

Tell Me A Story

"Tell me a story about when you were little." What parent or grandparent hasn't heard that phrase a thousand times? I know in my family it is a tradition passed down from generation to generation. I think it was started by my grandfather. I remember bedtime as the best part of spending the night with "Pop" and "Nicki", because that was when Pop would tell his stories.

Stories about his childhood and my dad's childhood seemed almost magical as they rolled off his tongue, one after another. Each story carried with it a lesson to be taught and a mental picture that time could never erase. "Tell me the one about...." we would say, as we fought to stay awake to hear him recount another story we had heard countless times. I will always carry those stories with me along with the memories of precious moments spent with my grandfather.

Many years have come and gone since I was able to hear Pop tell a story, but the magic is still there. I became the storyteller to my children when they were the little ones who begged to hear "just one more" before they went to sleep. Now I look forward to telling the same stories to my grandchildren. As I recounted stories of my childhood to my children, I realized that Pop wasn't just telling stories, he was teaching me about life. As he walked me down the roads of his memory, he was teaching me about character, integrity, and most importantly faith. I hope I did the same with my children and will someday with my grandchildren. I believe that is what God intended when He told Israel "Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength.<sup>6</sup> These commandments that I give you today are to be upon your hearts.<sup>7</sup> Impress them on your children. Talk about them when you sit at home and when you walk along the road, when you lie down and when you get up. (Deuteronomy 5:5-7)

To Rob a Thief has joined the ranks of many other Hollywood "caper" movies, but the basic plot is centuries old. Though the Chaldeans had long stolen from others, they would be stolen from by the very people they had wronged. There's more than a ring of truth to the axiom, "What Goes Around, Comes Around." How do we keep from getting caught in that vicious loop? - J.E.

Question / Answer Section
Q/A for the Week of 6/16/22
True or False
Q: The first Christians shared everything with one another.

A: True [Acts 4: 32-35]

Q: Believers are to avoid favoritism of the rich over the poor.

A: True [James 2: 1-4]

Q: The people were near the Lord in their hearts, but far away in mouth and lips.

A: False [Isaiah 29:13]

To Rob a Thief

A popular genre of movies is the heist flick, in which characters assemble to commit a bold robbery. The victim of the theft is usually a person who gained wealth by dishonest means. Such a movie has an appeal across cultures, as the existence of such movies originally produced in many of the world's languages demonstrates.

In the comedic Spanish language heist movie "To Rob a Thief", two former thieves plot to rob the biggest thief they know: a TV infomercial producer. That shyster had made a fortune by selling worthless products to poor Latino immigrants. The two would-be thieves assemble a team of ordinary refugees to pull off a bold crime of revenge. The plot involves gaining entry into a well-guarded mansion, accessing a vault, and then getting the money off the property.

Annual Drinking Water Quality Report

Jack Water System, Inc.

January-December 2021

Is my water safe?

Last year, as in years past, your tap water met all U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) and the Alabama Department of Environmental Management (ADEM) drinking water health standards. Your local water officials vigilantly safeguard its water supplies and once again we are proud to report that our system has not violated a maximum contaminant level or any other water quality standards. We're pleased to present to you this year's Annual Drinking Water Quality Report. This report is designed to inform you about the quality water and services we deliver to you every day. Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to ensuring the quality of your water. Our water source is one groundwater well. The water we supply comes from the Clayton Aquifer. The Jack Water System also purchases water from the Pike County Water Authority. The Pike County Water Authority utilizes groundwater pumped from seven wells out of the Ripley Aquifer and the Tuscaloosa Aquifer. The water we provide to our customers requires no specialized treatment. However, chlorine is added to the water for disinfection purposes. This ensures the quality of water throughout our distribution system. The Jack Water System routinely completes a water storage facility inspection plan and utilizes a Bacteriological Monitoring Plan and a Cross Connection Policy is in place to insure good safe drinking water for our customers. The Jack Water System and Pike County Water Authority have both completed a Source Water Assessment Plan which is available at our offices for review. This report provides information about potential sources of contamination and is set up to help protect our source. We want our valued customers to be informed about their water utility. If you want to learn more, please attend any of our regularly scheduled Board meetings. They are held on the first Monday of each month at the Zion Chapel Senior Citizens located at Highway 87 North, in Jack, and begin at 7:00 p.m.

Important Drinking Water Definitions:

Action Level (AL) - The concentration of a contaminant that triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system shall follow.

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - The level of a contaminant in drinking water below, which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) - The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) - The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Millirems per year (mrem/yr) - Measure of radiation absorbed by the body. Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - Nephelometric turbidity unit is a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity in excess of 5 NTU is just noticeable to the average person.

Parts per million (ppm) or Milligrams per liter (mg/L) - One part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) or Micrograms per liter (µg/L) - One part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

Parts per trillion (ppt) or Nanograms per liter (ng/L) - One part per trillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000,000.

Parts per quadrillion (ppq) or Picograms per liter (pg/L) - One part per quadrillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years or one penny in $10,000,000,000,000.

Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) - Picocuries per liter is a measure of the radioactivity in water.

Treatment Technique (TT) - A required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Threshold Odor Number (T.O.N.) - The greatest dilution of a sample with odor-free water that still yields a just-detectable odor.

Variations & Exemptions - ADEM or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.

Explanation of reasons for variance/exemptions: Based on a study conducted by ADEM with the approval of the EPA a statewide waiver for the monitoring of asbestos and dioxin was issued. Thus, monitoring for these contaminants was not required. The Jack Water System and the Pike County Water Authority routinely monitor for contaminants in your drinking water according to Federal and State laws. Unless otherwise noted, the data presented in the following tables show the results of our monitoring period of January 1st to December 31st, 2021.

GENERAL INFORMATION

All drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. It's important to remember that the presence of these contaminants does not necessarily pose a health risk. The EPA or ADEM requires us to monitor for certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants do not change frequently.

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and radioactive material, and it can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activities.

As you can see by the tables, our system had no monitoring violations of allowable limits of contaminants in drinking water. We're proud that your drinking water meets or exceeds all Federal and State requirements. We have learned through our monitoring and testing that some contaminants have been detected. The EPA has determined that your water IS SAFE at these levels. MCL's are set at very stringent levels. To understand the possible health effects described for many regulated contaminants, a person would have to drink 2 liters of water every day at the MCL level for a lifetime to have a one-in-a-million chance of having the described health effect.

Total Coliform: The Total Coliform Rule requires water systems to meet a stricter limit for coliform bacteria. Coliform bacteria are usually harmless, but their presence in water can be an indication of disease-causing bacteria. When coliform bacteria are found, special follow-up tests are done to determine if harmful bacteria are present in the water supply. If this limit is exceeded, the water supplier must notify the public by newspaper, television or radio. To comply with the stricter regulation, we have increased the average amount of chlorine in the distribution system.

Lead in Drinking Water: The Total Coliform Rule requires water systems to meet a stricter limit for coliform bacteria. Coliform bacteria are usually harmless, but their presence in water can be an indication of disease-causing bacteria. When coliform bacteria are found, special follow-up tests are done to determine if harmful bacteria are present in the water supply. If this limit is exceeded, the water supplier must notify the public by newspaper, television or radio. To comply with the stricter regulation, we have increased the average amount of chlorine in the distribution system.

Lead in Drinking Water: "If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. The Jack Water System is responsible for providing high quality drinking water but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>."

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. People who are immuno-compromised such as cancer patients undergoing chemotherapy, organ transplant recipients, HIV/AIDS positive or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. People at risk should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA (Environmental Protection Agency)/CDC (Center of Disease Control) guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline. All drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Thank you for allowing us to continue providing your family with clean, quality water this year. In order to maintain a safe and dependable water supply we sometimes need to make improvements that will benefit all of our customers. These improvements are sometimes reflected as rate structure adjustments. Thank you for understanding.

We at the Jack Water System work around the clock to provide top quality water to every tap. We ask that all our customers help us protect our water sources, which are the heart of our community, our way of life and our children's future.

a member of the House of Representatives and now a member of the Alabama Senate.

"Because of his service, the agricultural industry within this state has benefited, and in addition, he has been instrumental in protecting the environment," Harris read from the resolution. "It is both appropriate and desirable to honor Senator Holley, who has made the lives of his fellow citizens better and has brought honor and respect to Alabama through his tireless and dedicated public service."

Therefore, the Alabama Legislature resolved that the portion of U.S. Highway 84 from the Coffee County line west to where it ends within the City of Enterprise shall be designated as the Senator Jimmy W. Holley Highway.

Harris said signs would be erected along the highway for motorists to see as they travel the roadway through Coffee County.

Senator Holley is retiring from politics at the end of his current term after the November general election.

Our grandson Lawson told his Mom he wanted to go to the movies over the weekend and so they picked up one of his friends and headed over to Enterprise. Yep, nothing like watching a bunch of dinosaurs attack the world to bring a family together.

For what it is worth....

*** The Elba All-Stars and their teammates on the Coffee County team didn't get to keep any of the trophies here in town last week at the Dixie Youth baseball tournaments in Elba, but they wrapped up the season competing against teams from other towns and made all their fans proud of their effort and dedication. Back years ago almost all the boys and girls in small towns played baseball and softball during the summer and did their best to make the 'All-Star' teams, but these days there is so much to do at home on the internet and playing video games that fewer and fewer children make the sacrifice needed to practice countless hours at home and at practice with their teammates, and summer ball has almost died out. I know times change, but the memories of playing summer ball and being an all-star are still ones that make us smile.

*** The Elba Tigers and Lady Tigers were busy last week competing at play dates at the Tiger gym and so far the Elba teams have looked impressive against any and all competition. High school basketball teams get together in June to get in some summer work and work on game type situations, and hopefully it will also help the teams develop a work ethic and personality that will carry over to the season. School may be out for the summer, but the seasons never end for all the student-athletes.

*** I haven't watched one second of the NBA championship series because I do my best to avoid having to listen to Stephen A. Smith shout about things he knows nothing about, but I still watch the Braves every chance I get and will admit I was impressed over the weekend when they ran their winning streak to ten games. The Braves have arguably the best pitching staff in the big leagues and also boast enough hitters so that at least a couple will come through every time they hit the field. The season hasn't even reached the all-star break yet. However, with a couple of possible trades coming soon and with hot weather on the way, look out for the Braves to be in position to repeat.

*** In closing.... The Alabama Sports Writers Association has released its various 'All-State' teams in recent weeks and noticeable absent to me from the lists in both baseball and softball are players from high schools in Coffee County. Not one players from the county was included on the softball list, while Enterprise and New Brockton did manage to get a couple of players on the list in baseball. I guess now that Enterprise is down to one bi-weekly newspaper it is time for 'The Clipper' to become the voice of the entire county and keep our student-athletes in the news.

Welcome Home, Joseph Cline!

Joseph Cline of Elba competed last week in the 2022 Special Olympics USA Games held in Orlando, Fla. He was a member of Team Alabama.

Joseph competed in swimming events, and the 17-year-old brought home a gold medal for the 200-yd Individual Medley race and a bronze medal for the 100-yd backstroke race.

On Sunday afternoon, June 12, his hometown of Elba gave him a big "welcome home" with a special parade. Joseph was ushered into the downtown area riding inside an Elba fire truck as his fans stood on the square cheering and waving American flags! He exited the fire truck

The Elba Volunteer Fire Department delivered Joseph Cline to the square in downtown Elba where his fans waited to welcome him home Sunday, June 12, from the 2022 Special Olympics USA Games. Sirens could be heard all over Elba as police cars, fire trucks, and ambulances all participated in the "Welcome Home" parade for Elba's medalist. Joseph won a gold and bronze medal competing in the Games, and his hometown cheered all week long for him as he participated in his swimming events.

At the right and below: Joseph was all smiles as he exited the fire truck and approached his cheering fans! Lots of hugs, high fives, and photos followed the cheers.

Joseph's sister, Grace, and his niece, Oakleigh, were among those waiting to welcome him home Sunday.
